Nursery

In our nursery room , we are planning to include more sensory activities using materials like water , pom-poms and ice. These hands on experience help children explore the world around them using their senses. We are also continuing our music and movement activities which support physical development , listening skills and self-expression .

June 2025

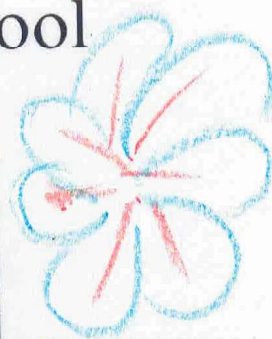

Toddler

Our toddlers engaged in a variety of activities that encouraged curiosity, movement and discovery. Next month, our toddlers will dive into an exciting and vibrant theme: Learning about Colours! We will focus on recognizing the colours and exploring patterns and combinations through variety of hands on activities, creative expression and playful experiments.

This month , our preschoolers had a wonderful time exploring both indoor and outdoors. As we look ahead to next month , we are excited to begin a new learning theme focused on days of the week and weather. Through stories , songs , crafts and science explorations , children will begin to understand daily weather patterns . We also introduce the days and order of the week using engaging visuals , repetition and playful routines
